

Antenatal (pre-birth) care is important during pregnancy, ensuring optimal health for you and your baby.

Shared care between your GP and experienced midwives at East Grampians Health Service allows you to meet the people who will care for you at the time of your baby's birth.

Benefits of shared pregnancy care

- You will get to know your GP during pregnancy and also the midwives who will be supporting you during labour and the birth of your baby
- Your visits with a midwife are FREE
- Short waiting times
- Half hour visits. You will have time to discuss issues and ask questions

- You will continue regular visits with your GP, but every second visit will be with a midwife
- Your antenatal care will be tailored to suit your needs and circumstances

During your visit with a midwife you will be offered advice and information about various issues including:

- Exercise
- Food choices
- Discomforts during pregnancy
- Vitamin K given at birth to your baby
- Hepatitis B vaccine for your baby
- Antenatal tests
- Breastfeeding

You will be referred to other health professionals if required. (e.g. dietitian or physiotherapist.)

When am I able to choose Shared Care?

At the first visit to your GP or when booking in at the hospital.

Are all women able to choose Shared Care?

Discuss the option with your GP at your first visit. Women with a complicated pregnancy may not be suitable for this program. However, even if you have a more complicated pregnancy you are able to request visits to the midwives to discuss any issues or concerns.
